The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

Farmers, beware!

Petitions are in circulation (or will be, shortly) for the new Ham and Eggs amendment—now called "Twenty-Every-Thursday."

And to California's farming industry, the new act is far more dangerous than the old.

The 1940 version of Ham and Eggs, with its fantastic provision for a 3 per cent gross income tax, would mean a gross transactions tax—a turnover tax of 3 per cent, applying to every farm transaction, from the grower to the ultimate consumer.

According to the most conservative estimates, that would mean a 10 per cent tax on every farmer's gross income — for farm products turn over from 3 to 5 times (or more) in going from the farm to

DISTRICT LEGION CONVENTION WOULD BAR COMMUNIST VOTE

Use Of Sacramento Memorial Auditorium By Harry Bridges Also Opposed By Resolution; Approximately 200 Attend Two Meetings

El Dorado County was host Sunday to approximately two hundred members of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary of the Sixth District, who held their quarterly meeting at the county high school.

The morning, in each meeting, was devoted to business sessions and the two groups met jointly in the afternoon.

A feature of the American Legion meeting was the adoption of two resolutions, one urging that the Communist Party be outlawed as a political party in the state and the Nation; another protesting against granting of the use of the Sacramento Memorial Auditorium for a meeting at which Harry Bridges is to speak.

In regard to this matter, it was reported before the convention that the money has all ready been paid for the use of the auditorium for such a meeting in May and it was also stated that the Native Sons at Sacramento had refused to grant the use of their hall for the same meeting.

The Legion also opened nominations looking toward the election of officers at the next district convention. Nominees are, for commander, Harry French, of Elk Grove; for first vice, James Hansen, of North Sacramento; and for second vice, Fred McGrew, of Woodland, and Earl Eberlein, of Rio Linda.

In the auxiliary meeting, conducted by Mrs. Ollie Irwin, of Placerville, district president, an especial feature was a talk by Muriel Wright, department president. Other department officers also were in attendance at the meeting.

At luncheon time, the more than 200 delegates were served luncheon in the school cafeteria by a committee of members of the local American Legion Post. More than twenty posts were represented at the convention and one of the outstanding items was the discussion of the child welfare program and the Legion's five-million dollar endowment for the benefit of the children of deceased veterans.

The entertainment program for the general afternoon meeting fea-

Native Sons To Be Invited To County

Placerville Parlor Names Delegates To Grand Parlor Meeting At Bakersfield

The Grand Parlor of Native Sons of the Golden West may meet at the south end of Lake Tahoe in 1941 if an invitation to be extended by Placerville Parlor No. 9, N. S. G. W., is accepted.

Members of Placerville Parlor revealed Monday that the Grand Parlor meeting at Bakersfield on May 20th, this year, is to be invited to meet in El Dorado County for 1941 and there are hopes that the invitation may meet with favor.

In connection with their plans for extending the invitation, members of Placerville Parlor note that Henry S. Lyon, of Placerville, the present grand first vice-president of the Native Sons, is a candidate for election at the Grand Parlor as Grand President.

Mr. Lyon will lead the El Dorado County delegation to the Grand Parlor and the delegates from Placerville Parlor will be Leo Ench, George M. Smith and Clyde R. Berriman.

SERVICES ON TUESDAY FOR RETIRED LAWYER FROM L. A.

Funeral services for William H. Irons, 50, retired Los Angeles attorney, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the M. O'Keefe mortuary chapel. Rev. Harold Morehouse will have charge. Interment will be at Union cemetery.

Mr. Irons died Thursday of last week while enroute to Placerville with a son in an automobile. He had been stricken suddenly ill and was being brought to Placerville for a physician's care. On arriva, he was found to have passed away and death was attributed to a heart weakness.

Mr. Irons was a native of Fargo, North Dakota, and had resided in California twenty years, principally at Los Angeles where he was engaged in legal practice until incapacitated as the result of an automobile accident within recent years.

He came to this county last September and lived in the Fairplay district.

In addition to his wife, Mrs. Clarice Irons, who resides at Fresno, Mr. Irons is survived by a daughter and three sons, Mrs. Geraldine Nelson, William, Jr., Edward and Jack, all of this county.

He also is survived by two sisters and two brothers in Los Angeles, who are Mrs. Stella Van Nawkrik, Mrs. Mae Hansen, and Robert and Edward D. Irons.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY PLANS FOR NEW MEMBERSHIP ENROLLMENT

Second Panel Meeting Is Proposed Following Success Of Initial Session, Held Friday Evening At Hotel Raffles

Members of the El Dorado County Historical Society report their panel meeting, held Friday evening at Hotel Raffles, an occasion of special interest which met with so much public interest that a second such meeting is being tentatively scheduled.

Cecil A. Barker, the society's president, said Monday morning that arrangements are not sufficiently well advanced to announce the time and place for the meeting and that a program chairman for the occasion is yet to be appointed.

Mr. Barker also revealed that steps are being taken to afford all in the county who are interested in an opportunity to assist the society in its work to become members and share in the development of an authoritative record of early days in the county.

The meeting Fridey evening convened with Mr. Barker as chairman and Reuel V. Whigam gave a review of the society's first year. One of the items of special interest in his remarks was the reference to the manner in which erroneous dates and statements have crept into the true history and it was noted that it is one of the objectives of the society to develop an authentic history of the county.

The speaking program for the meeting had been arranged by Mrs. L. J. Dormody, the society's vice-president. Among those who came from afar to share in the meeting were R. H. Cross, head of the law school of the University of California, and Mrs. Jeanne Van Nostrand, of Berkeley.

Mr. Cross has for many years been making a study of the early inns of California and Mrs. Van Nostrand has been interested in art in California in the early days. Each of the visitors came to glean from the meeting items in their respective fields of study and each was kind enough to share the speaking program, adding to the general interest in the meeting.

Mr. Cross also interviewed several residents of the community in relation to his study during his visit here.

Britain Reports Troops Landed In Norway; Nazis Plan Raids

LONDON (U.P.)—The admiralty and the war office, in a 10 word communique said today that British forces had landed at several points in Norway.

AIR AND SEA BASES

BERLIN, (U.P.)—Official sources today stated that no British troops had landed in parts of Norway occupied by German forces.

Authorized sources pointed out, that the Norwegian coastline is 1,200 miles long and irregular. Therefore, it was stated, that it was possible that British troops had landed at some points not yet occupied by the Germans.

Authorized quarters said today that Germany henceforth would use the Norwegian coast as a base for aerial and submarine attacks against the British Isles.

Continued British naval and air force attacks on Narvik, Bergen, Stavanger and other points, an authorized source said, have released Germany finally from the guarantee given to the Danish and Norwegian governments at the time of the German invasion not to use their countries as bases for offensive action against Britain.

The high command announced that Norway's attempt to mobilize troops in the Oslo region had been frustrated with the capture of a large quantity of war materials.

Local Happenings

Miss Betty Maul was home from studies at the University to spend the weekend with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cleese, Jr., and family were here from San Francisco to spend the weekend with relatives and other friends.

Roy Bloomstrum, of the federal Bureau of Entomology, is here cooperating with Eldorado Forest officers in the installation of blister rust control camps.

Shriners' Concert Rare Music Treat

Chanters, Band And Soloists Appear For Appreciative Audience

The promise of an exceptional musical treat was fulfilled on Saturday evening at the high school auditorium when the band and chanters of Ben Ali temple of the Shrine at Sacramento, accompanied by three guest artists, presented a free, public concert.

The concert was offered under the sponsorship of El Dorado Lodge No. 26, F. & A. M., whose master, John Simpson, made a short talk before the concert opened, expressing the thanks of the interested groups to the governing board of the school for granting the use of the auditorium, and on behalf of the sponsoring group, an appreciation to the members of Ben Ali temple for bringing the concert to Placerville.

Soloists were Irma Sheean, soprano, Rudy Caffaro, tenor, and Jack Sprigg, trumpeter. The vocalists each offered two numbers and were called upon, each of them, to present an encore. Mr. Sprigg, whose trumpet solo brought demands for an encore, explained he had not expected to be called upon for a second number and was therefore unprepared. Formerly trumpet soloist with Arthur Prior's band on the east coast, Mr. Sprigg's Placerville appearance was his first with the Ben Ali temple band.

The main body of the concert was by the chanters, numbering about twenty voices, directed by Clifford A. Mott, and the band, of approximately fifty pieces, directed by Robert N. Fenton. The two units were heard together in numbers, and each group performed separately in a manner which evidently pleased the large audience, for numerous encores were requested and granted.

The Shrine members and their guests came to Placerville in three large buses and before returning to Sacramento the visitors were guests of El Dorado Lodge No. 26, F. & A. M., for refreshments at the Masonic temple.

The concert had as master of ceremonies Ellis Amick, of Placerville, a member of Ben Ali temple, who, in opening the program presented the guest artists to the audience and also introduced Paul Amick, potentate of Ben Ali temple, who made a short talk on the work which the Shrine of North America is doing throughout the nation in behalf of crippled children.

Personally, we could have enjoyed the concert more if there had been a little less visiting among the spectators in our section of the auditorium; but we presume boys will be boys, and girls will be girls, too. —V.A.

FELONIOUS ASSAULT DRAWS $100 FINE FOLLOWING ADMISSION OF GUILT

John Kosch, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was fined $100 and placed on one year's probation Monday morning in Superior Court after he had entered a plea that he is guilty of the charge.

Kosch had been arrested on complaint of Peter Corb, who charged he had been beaten by the accused with a piece of reinforcing steel.

The defendant was represented by Attorney Richard Barry, whom the court had appointed to advise him, and the evidence in the case was to the effect that Corb was attacked after he had made a remark which Kosch viewed as disparaging to his character.

Application was made for probation with no conditional penalty but Judge George H. Thompson pointed out that the crime was one of violence and that some penalty must ensue.

The principals, at the time of the assault, both were tenants of the jungles west of Placerville.

BARTS BOW TO AUBURN, 8-4

Folsom Plays Placerville On Home Field Sunday In "At Home" Opening Game

The Bartletts looked good against Auburn Sunday in their second game of the Placer-Nevada League schedule, and lost by an 8 to 4 count, although the scorer gave the Bartletts twelve hits against eight for their opponents.

Bad luck in the hurling department was the chief explanation. Reggie Jackson started fine and was going good until he strained a ligament and had to be withdrawn. Chet Carsten took over, and he hasn't been well lately and had not regained his full strength so he yielded to "Dummy" Land, who finished up for the Bartletts and got along pretty well.

Sunday next the Bartletts make their debut to the home fans on the field, with Folsom as their opponents.

Red Cross Swim Service Told

Competent Instructor To Be On Duty In Summer At Placerville Plunge

The plans of El Dorado County Chapter of the Red Cross to have a qualified instructor in swimming at the Placerville plunge this season, and to make his services available to children throughout the county were announced Monday by T. S. Marlor, chapter chairman.

The announcement was made in the following letter addressed to every postmaster in the county, with the request that he post the letter conspicuously at his office:

"Dear Sir:

"The El Dorado County Chapter of the American Red Cross intends to make swimming lessons available at the Placerville pool during June and July, under the direction of a qualified instructor who will devote his entire time to this work.

"The Chapter has appropriated funds for this purpose and no fee or charge of any kind will be made. Classes will be held from 10 a. m. until 5 (or possibly 6) p. m., and those applying will be graded according to age, ability and previous experience. The instructor will positively guarantee that every pupil who joins the classes and follows the program prescribed will be able to swim across the pool at the end of the course.

"The Chapter expects, in return for furnishing this service free, that transportation be arranged from the districts outside of Placerville so that this offer may be extended to every community in the county.

"Will you please write me, stating how many in your community would be interested in joining in these classes, and also please broadcast the information to others in your neighborhood so that the offer may be brought to the attention of everyone."

Rollie Rather and Harold Humes, enroute from Reno to Placerville on a motorcycle, were painfully injured when their vehicle crashed into a tree near Bullion Bend Sunday. They were removed to Reno after emergency treatment in Placerville.

COUGARS BEAT IONE, 14-6

Jackson Here Tuesday For Return Game In Mother Lode League

That the young and inexperienced Cougars who turned out for baseball this year may look pretty good by the time next season rolls around became apparent to their supporters on Friday as the high school defeated Ione, 14 to 6, in a CIF league game.

The contest was played on the abbreviated diamond at the county fair grounds, which will be the scene for another game Tuesday afternoon when the Cougars tackle Jackson high school again.

Barrett hurled the game for the Cougars and was so well supported by his team mates at bat that the nine hits Ione garnered failed to make any difference. The Cougars touched two Ione hurlers for a total of sixteen hits including five doubles, a brace of three baggers and two home runs.

Old-Time Friends Pay Visit To Thos. Mauls

Attorney and Mrs. Thomas Maul received a visit Friday from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook, of Bloomington, Ill., old-time friends of Mr. Maul and his parents, whom he had not seen for thirty-five years.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook were enroute home following a visit at Long Beach and devoted the day to visiting with Attorney and Mrs. Maul and making trips to points of particular historic interest in the county.

Fire Permits Are Required

Regulation Effective Monday, April 15th, Says Forest Service

The Forest Supervisor of the Eldorado National Forest is calling special attention to the fact that burning permits must be obtained for all types of outside burning after April 15. This will be necessary throughout the season until December 1. These permits are also required for blasting.

Everyone is urged to give the federal and state forestry bureaus their full cooperation in this respect, as the issuance of these permits provides officers with a means of checking on necessary brush and grass burning. State forest and fire laws provide penalties for all unauthorized burning or blasting.

Permits for lands lying within the National Forest should be obtained from the District Ranger in whose district the burning or blasting is to be done. Eldorado Forest rangers are as follows: Georgetown District, Georgetown, Frank McCaslin; Pacific District, Pacific, M. D. Morris; Caldor District, Lumberyard, G. B. Young; Lake Valley District, Meyers, R. R. Bryan.

For land outside the National Forest, permits should be obtained from the State Forestry rangers, who are located as follows: Camino, Willard C. Austin; Pine Grove, Malcolm Dixon.

County Native Victim In Siskiyou Accident

Reports from Siskiyou County tell of the recent death there of A. B. Farnsworth, a native of El Dorado County, who had been engaged in mining near Cecilville with his brother, Edward, for a number of years.

The deceased was internally injured when caught between the deflector rod and the discharge pipe of a hydraulic monitor.

He is survived by two sons, Archie, of Yreka, and Roscoe, of San Francisco, in addition to the brother.

PLEASANT VALLEY MAN ENDS LIFE WITH PISTOL SHOT

Funeral services were held Sunday from the Dillinger mortuary chapel for Rudolph Fehr, 76, for forty-five years a resident of El Dorado County, who died Saturday, apparently by his own hand.

Coroner A. J. Orelli reports that Mr. Fehr had not been well the previous ten days and that he had expressed to friends some disapproval with a proposal that he be Friends found the body.

Sometime Saturday, he apparently seated himself in a chair, put his feet upon a box and shot himself in the forhead with a .32 pistol. Firends found the body.

Mr. Fehr was a native of Switzerland and came to America and to this county 45 years ago. In younger days he had been employed in the lumbering industry. The best available records indicate he has no relatives.

The services were conducted by the Rev. H. F. Botorff and interment was at Pleasant Valley cemetery, not far removed from his late residence. An inquest may be held Wednesday night.

CHAPTER XXXIII

SARAH EVANS pulled away from Phil Williams' arms. "Let's not be dramatic about this," she said.

The doctor answered. "Let's just be truthful."

He took her arm and led her to his car. Opening the door, he turned to help her inside.

"I'm sorry," Sarah Evans said, "but I can't leave. Mrs. Jay will need me."

The doctor's voice was gentle. "A minute ago I saw her greeting her daughter. Do you think she needs you?"

Sarah Evans answered slowly. "No—not if Caroline is home. But why should I go with you?"

Phil Williams said, "I told Mrs. Jay I was going to look after you. You're going to get some sleep and in the morning you can come back bright and early to help."

It seemed a hundred years since anyone had thought of Sarah Evans. She tried to lean back on the seat of the car—to rest after the ordeal she had been through.

Her thoughts turned to David. She felt sorry for Phil Williams because he did not know David—his little boy.

THE DOCTOR drove through town into the suburbs. His car stopped at the apartment house where they had once lived such briefly beautiful hours together.

Sarah Evans got out of the car and followed Phil into the house. She stepped into the elevator with him and rode to the top floor. It was as if the last year had never been and they were meeting again as they had during the first, secret years of their marriage."

Phil had made few changes in the apartment. There was the wide, long living room with a fireplace at one end. How many times in winter, they had sat, hand in hand before it. There was the easy chair, big enough for two, which she had picked out. On the table was the old Indian print scarf. But on the mantel was a new picture—the photograph of a lovely girl.

"Phil—" Sarah began. "In this last year, since you have changed so much toward me, I have been frantic with jealousy. But now, I don't feel that way any longer. I am willing for you to be free so you can find a girl who'll make you the kind of wife you need and whom your family will approve of and your friends take into their own circle. And if you're free, then I can have the kid for myself."

The doctor came to her side, his hands gripping her arms. "Sally," he said, "I don't want to be free."

She looked at him, her eyes cloudy sapphires. "What do you mean?" she asked slowly.

"I mean," he spoke more seriously than she had ever heard him. "I mean that tonight when I received word Avon Home was afire, I thought of you and the kid—no one else mattered. It jerked me back to my senses."

SARAH thought. "Tonight meant the reunion of many people—the answer to many problems. This was only a crisis. Philip was frightened. It doesn't mean anything."

Philip took her in his arms. "Sally, your face is smudged with soot. Your hands are covered with iodine. Take a shower and I'll cook scrambled eggs and bacon. Then I'll talk to you."

Sprinkle of the hot and cold spray from the shower revived Sarah. Then she slipped back into her clothes and went in to Phil, who had coffee, crisp bacon and a platter of scrambled eggs waiting for her.

She sat down at the table in the dinette, not realizing how dark her hair looked from the wet combing or how blue her eyes were against the pallor of her face.

Phil served her and then sat across the table from her. "I have been an awful fool," he said slowly.

"YOU'RE upset," Sarah told him. "Unnerved."

"I'm not unnerved," Phil insisted. "I'm just getting my eyes opened."

"We were just youngsters when we eloped," Sarah said. "It was an awful blunder."

"No—I really loved you. I've never really cared for anyone else. But it seemed so hopeless before tonight. To take you home—to tell my mother and dad I had been married long ago and had a little boy."

Sarah Evans stood up. "You won't ever have to tell them," she cried. "You can get a divorce. But the little boy—he's mine. I'm going away with him somewhere and start all over again."

Phil Williams stood up, too. He came around the table and put his arms around the tall, straight girl. He kissed her until five years had slipped away, and they were young and desperate again.

When he spoke, he said, "My darling, it is almost daybreak. You and I are going to the nursery home."

"You mean—" and Sarah no longer tried to hide the great joy in her voice. "You mean we're going to get the kid?"

For answer, he kissed her again. In his arms, Sarah remembered what David had said that afternoon, when she had described a little house with a yard, a flower garden and a dog. He had said "And a father, too?" Yes, her heart sang, a father, too.

Household Hint

In making bran muffins you will find that diced apple, stirred into the batter, makes them delicious and helps keep them moist, should there be leftovers. Use one large apple or two medium ones, peeled or unpeeled.

Stewart Says—

Feeling Grows That Britain Is Imposing On Our Good Nature

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

IN CONNECTION with war conditions, English newspapers have been saying some rather disagreeable things about Uncle Samuel lately and American newspapers have been reciprocating as to John Bull and his ways. Officially there is nothing amiss except that Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy has been quoted as reporting to President Roosevelt that the London government has badly bungled its diplomacy since even before actual hostilities developed. Neither governmental Washington nor London has taken any notice of the mutually increasing unpleasantness of press comment, however, nor has the British foreign office paid any attention to Ambassador Kennedy's reported utterances to the White House—though English editorial writers have been decidedly vocal on the latter subject.

Joseph Kennedy

All this isn't to say that American sentiment is believed to be switching pro-Hitlerward or pro-Stalinward or that it's switching at all emphatically in the direction of anti-Britishness or anti-Frenchiness.

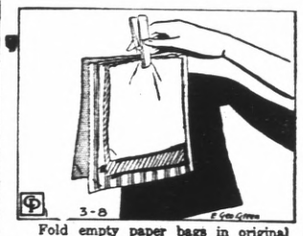

Nevertheless, Washington senses a developing Yankee feeling that the British (not so much the French) incline to impose considerably upon American good nature in managing the anti-German blockade. Maybe the French would do it, too, if they had Britain's sea-strength to "get away with it," but they haven't; so J. Bull is the individual principally criticized.

For instance, Uncle Sam doesn't like British interference with his overseas mails. He doesn't like undue delay of his merchant vessels for contraband overhauling at Britishly-controlled ports, or the forcible British steering of such vessels into dangerous waters. He doesn't like having his exports and imports, in neutral craft, Britishly supervised. He doesn't like having British cruisers disregarding our Pan-American neutrality zone.

There's no question about these objections, because our state department has specifically expressed them in formal communications to London.

But John Bull's navy pays no attention to these mild representations, and the state department hesitates to put them in the form of vigorous protests or warnings, not desiring to risk an out-and-out strain on British-American relations.

American popular sentiment, though, appears to be getting pretty resentful—not belligerent, but quite "huffy." And the American press reflects it.

Fold empty paper bags in original creases and clip them together with a clothespin and they will always be ready when you need them.

Legion Meeting Held Sunday

tured an appearance by the drill team of El Dorado Auxiliary unit under the leadership of Mrs. Ruby Wright. The team not only escorted the officers and distinguished guests, but gave an exhibition floor drill which was very well received.

Bruce Anderson, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Anderson, who recently won the El Dorado County eliminations in a public speaking contest on Americanism, sponsored by the California Bankers' Association, gave his talk for the convention. The Legion members and officers commented very favorably upon the subject matter and upon the way young Mr. Anderson delivered his talk.

Bruce will go to Marysville within a few weeks to compete in district finals in the contest.

Paul Smith and the members of the Sons of the American Legion drill team assisted in the convention program and their enthusiastic efforts were much appreciated by the American Legion and Auxiliary.

The Sons of the Legion drum and bugle corps was presented by Cliff Swesey, Jr., Captain; Charles Irish, first lieutenant; Eldon Green, second lieut.; Milford Green, sergeant-at-arms; Henry Pierroz, color bearer; Gordon Stoffer, Philip Morton, Junior Wurth, Ralph Taylor, Clyde Longhurst, Jim Franklin and Ted Yates.

Household Hint

A ripe olive garnish for a fish or meat platter is a real treat. Do it like this: Cover ripe olives, arranged in a shallow pan, with French dressing and bake them five minutes or so in a moderate oven. Cool the dressing and use it later.

Wife Preservers

Keep a supply of paper toweling at hand in your kitchen, near the sink, if possible. Use them to wipe grease off cooking utensils before washing; for draining fried foods on, and for many other chores.

By VERA WINSTON

A CRISP WHITE collar adds dash and verve to any dark frock. Here's a grand afternoon model, effective yet essentially simple. The fabric is black crepe, the collar is sheer lingerie with black velvet ribbon run through its lace beading and a fluffy lace ruffle bordering it. The dress closes with tiny buttons to the waist where there is a self-belt. The nicely flared skirt swings from the waist. It has center seams front and back, and short sleeves.

CARD OF THANKS

I am a little bit late with this, but I assure you it is an oversight of the head and not the heart. I do appreciate the support given my candidacy in the recent city election and assure one and all of my unfailing devotion to the public welfare. Thank you.

TODAY'S MENU

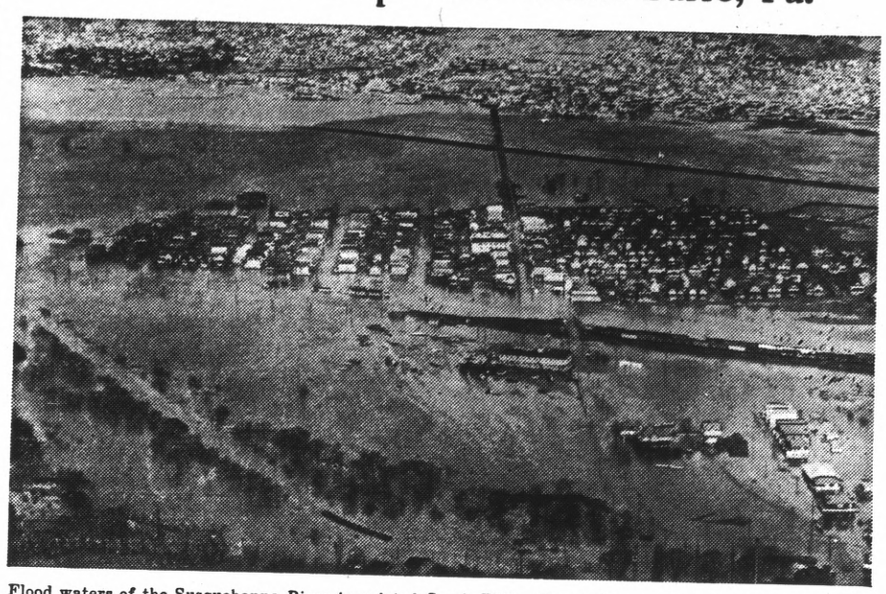

By BETSY NEWMAN

Chicken Creole Rice
Green Peas Spring Green Salad
Chocolate Pudding Coffee

CHICKEN CREOLE—Ingredients: one chicken, one-half pound salt pork, one onion, one can tomatoes, one green pepper, salt and pepper. Have chicken cut up as for fricassee. Dice salt pork, fry out in stew kettle, then put chicken in and brown delicately; cut up onion and fry brown. Pour tomato over all, adding green pepper, minced, at same time. Cook until chicken is tender. Season with salt and pepper to suit taste. Serve in border of boiled rice.

Chocolate Pudding—White part requires one cup sugar, two cups milk, two tablespoons cornstarch. Boil milk and sugar until sugar is dissolved, thicken with cornstarch dissolved in a little of the milk. Beat whites of two eggs to stiff froth, stir in hot mixture and remove from fire. Dark part requires yolks of two eggs, one-half cake chocolate, one teaspoon vanilla. Grate chocolate fine or melt over tea kettle, mix with part of hot first part, flavor with vanilla, then put light and dark parts of pudding alternately into serving dish, like marble cake. Set in cool place and serve cold with whipped cream.

How Floods Imperiled Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Flood waters of the Susquehanna River inundated South Wilkes-Barre, Pa., as shown in this aerial view, when overflow from melting snow was augmented by heavy rains. Fire was added to flood peril as gasoline storage tanks exploded. Coast Guard boats worked feverishly to evacuate refugees.

GRANDSON IS BORN TO L. J. ANDERSONS AT BAY CITY

Friends of Dr. L. J. Anderson report that he is very much disturbed because he has found out he is married to a grandmother.

The baby, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Ayers, was born Wednesday of last week, at San Francisco and his mother is the former Coralee Anderson. The young man has been named Robert Bruce Ayers.

His mother suffered a fall a week ago Sunday and as a result the baby was born earlier than it was expected. The child was placed in an incubator and although its condition was not satisfactory for a time, Dr. Anderson reported Monday morning that the continued improvement of the baby and its mother have terminated a temporary feeling of great concern for their welfare.

Mrs. Anderson had been called to San Francisco on Tuesday of last week and returned home during the weekend.

SONJA HENIE FILM ENDS TONIGHT AT EMPIRE

Sonja Henie's latest 20th Century-Fox picture is thrillingly different from anything this famous star has yet done on the screen and makes plus entertainment for anyone. With the aid of Ray Milland and Robert Cummings, who as a pair of enthusiastic young reporters after a big scoop fall for Sonja simultaneously, there is an excellent comedy note injected. The timely story centers on an exiled statesman startling the world with his revelations and pleas for peace from his Alpine hideaway. Darryl F. Zanuckq selected Irving Cummings to direct, and this screen veteran has given Placerville an enjoyable picture everyone ought to see.

"Everything Happens at Night," a 20th Century-Fox picture closes a two-day showing at the Empire tonight.

Farm Advisor Ivan Lilley returned Sunday from Merced, where he had been called Thursday night by the serious illness of his father, Dr. Walter E. Lilley. Dr. Lilley's condition continues serious but an apparent improvement from the critical stage made it possible for Ivan to return to his work.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS TO GREET THEIR GRAND PRESIDENT

Members of Marguerite Parlor No. 1, N. D. G. W., will greet their grand president, Mrs. Orinda Giannini, of San Francisco, at their meeting on Wednesday evening, when the official pays her official visit to the parlor at its meeting at Masonic Hall.

A committee of arrangements includes Mrs. Pearl Tinney, Mrs. Corrine Miller and Mrs. Isabel Long.

Officers of the parlor state than an erroneous impression concerning the meeting has been circulated in that all will be expected to be in costume.

It is explained that it is desired that as many of those who attend will do so in costume, but the meeting is open to all of the membership, costumes or not, and it is hoped there will be a large attendance.

Miss Genevieve Payen To Wed In Fall

Announcement recently was made by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Payen, of Folsom, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Genevieve, and Raymond A. Caples, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Caples, of Sacramento. The wedding is being planned for November.

The parents of the bride-elect are widely known in El Dorado and Amador Counties as a result of their membership in the bi-county stockmen's organization and Miss Genevieve also has many friends in the member families of the organization.

Mrs. Jessie Maynard and Miss Margaret Akins spoke of the journeys of their grandparents in coming to California in the pioneer times. Miss Akins' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wax, came across the plains as did Mrs. Maynard's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Grove.

The Rev. A. A. Kyburz spoke concerning early Indian trails of the county and vicinity and noted how many of them have become the routes of our highways of today. The Rev. Kyburz also made reference to some errors in historical dates in which he has been endeavoring to have corrected.

Miss Margaret Kelly, of Kelsey, spoke also in regard to the need for correcting some of the errors in history.

The meeting was to have had as an additional speaker Mrs. Christine Bayne, of Placerville whose talk, with her consent was deferred until a future meeting owing to the all-ready full program.

2 County Youths Active In Jaysee Crew Sport

Two El Dorado County youths are active in rowing at Sacramento Junior College and one of them Daryl Prouty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Prouty, now of Vacaville, has the Number Five position in the first string shell.

Oliver Baer has the Number Two seat in the third string shell.

A suit for divorce was on file in Superior Court Monday morning in behalf of Gertrude F. Bookstore against David D. Bookstore, charging cruelty. Papers state the couple wed April 4, 1928, at Larned, Kansas, and separated December 12, 1938. They have two children.

THE SPIRIT OF 76

by JOHN CLINTON

I just saw a movie that you ought to see. The trouble is, I don't know how you're going to see it. Some of our engineers made it a while back, and it's a dilly.

It shows what happened to two motors which started out in life without any carbon in their cylinders. They were each driven 6000 miles over the same roads. At the end of that time, the engineers took the lids off the motors, and what do you think they found?

Nope, not Scarlett O'Hara. But in the motor that had been driven with one kind of oil there was a lot of carbon. Enough to make the motor ping on the least excuse.

However, in the other motor—the one that had been driven with Triton Motor Oil, on my word of honor, there wasn't enough to make the least practical difference. What little there was, was so soft you could scratch it with your finger nail!

Triton forms very little carbon itself. The movie showed that. And because it forms so little, it will allow your motor to burn up most of the old carbon formed by other oils and blow it out the exhaust pipe! In others words... Triton changes Ping to Purr!

And just in case you're a skeptic and you don't believe me, or the movie I saw, you have your crankcase filled with Triton Motor Oil this very day. Then drive 2 to 3 thousand miles, and see for yourself. You'll never use anything else, I can promise you.

Quick Flowering Annuals for Every Garden Purpose

It would be difficult to state a garden purpose for which a quick growing annual flower is not available. These accommodating flowers should be used wherever they create a desired effect. Here are suggested solutions for planting problems which are frequently met in gardening:

For edges and borders—Sweet alyssum, dwarf nasturtiums, lobelia, dwarf marigold (tagetes signata pumula), ageratum, Virginia stocks, forget-me-nots, nierembergia.

Long stems for cutting—Asters. calliopsis, mourning bride or scabiosa, cosmos. salvia farinacea.

Short stems for cutting—Marigolds, snapdragons, calendulas, sweet peas, annual chrystanthemums, bachelor buttons, sweet sultans, ten weeks' stocks and gypsophila.

For color masses—Petunia, zinnia, marigolds, calendulas, phlox Drummondi, verbena, stock, aster, salvia and poppies.

For light or poor soil—Nasturtiums, Clarkia, godetia, poppy, portulaca and zinnias.

For fragrance—Mignonette. heliotrope, nasturtiums, alyssum, matthiola bicornis, nicotiana, datura, ten weeks' stocks and sweet peas.

For shady places—Pansies, torenias or wishbone plant, godetia, forget-me-not, nemophila, impatiens, musk plant and other varieties of the handsome monkey flower (mimulus).

For hot situations—Sunflowers, heliotrope, portulaca, ice plant, petunias, balsam and annual gaillardia.

Gomphrena.

To grow after frost—Sweet alyssum, bachelor's buttons, petunias, marigolds, calendulas, candytuft, stocks and phlox Drummondi.

Vines — Morning glories, moonflowers, Japanese hop, climbing nasturtium, cardinal climbers, cobaea, cypress vine, baloon vine, scarlet runner and hyacinth beans.

Color harmonies—For yellow and deep blues; white cosmos, annual sunflower, centaureas, blue larkspurs, Swan river daisies, lobelia tenuoir and the dwarf forms, burnt orange shades in the zinnias and the California poppies.

Lavender, violet and orange—Ageratum, African marigolds, asters, lilac, larkspurs, heliotrope and dwarf marigolds.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT BEER AND BREWING

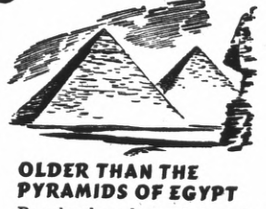

100 INDUSTRIES BENEFIT FROM BEER AND ALE

Did you know that the return of beer and ale brought increased business to more than 100 industries? It did. Services and materials were needed. New jobs were made for workers.

WHY BEER IS THE BEVERAGE OF MODERATION

Beer's alcoholic content is very low... lower than any other alcoholic beverage. That is why it is called "the beverage of moderation." You are not likely to get in trouble if you stick to beer.

OLDER THAN THE PYRAMIDS OF EGYPT

Beer has been brewed since the beginnings of recorded history in many parts of the world. It was known in ancient Egypt, in China, and the Euphrates valley.

NATURE MAKES BEER!

A simple natural process produces beer and ale from water, malted grain and hops. The brewer applies his skill to help give these beverages their fine taste.

BOUGHT BY BEER AND ALE: 25 BILLION POUNDS OF FARM PRODUCTS. Steadily, year after year, the brewing industry gives American farmers a big order for farm products. That's a help farmers appreciate.

BEER'S TAXES— $1,000,000 A DAY—COULD PAY FOR GRAND COULEE DAM IN 186 DAYS

Grand Coulee Dam on the Columbia river will be the most massive structure ever built by man. Beer's taxes—Federal, State and local—could quickly pay for it.

"CLEAN-UP OR CLOSE-UP" A NEW PLAN TO PROTECT BEER RETAILING

One of the most interesting things about beer and ale is the brewing industry's program to keep retailing wholesome. This program is now in effect in a number of states. It is being extended. We want you to know about it. Write for booklet. United Brewers Industrial Foundation, 19 East 40th St., New York, N. Y.

Diamond For Month Of April

Burger Knows Gems . . .

DIAMOND—April birthstone from "Adamas," meaning the invincible; hardest stone known, is pure in carbon, even ancients recognized its hardness for cutting other stones; usually found in imperfect octahedral shape, cleaves readily, has more brilliance than any other stone, cut with 58 facets—figured mathematically to bring out maximum of its extreme brilliance and rare "fire" — single high refraction easily identified; Diamond does not show in X-ray pictures.

Pocahontas on Treasure Isle

Lovely Nina Bissell, who will play the part of Pocahontas in AMERICA! CAVALCADE OF A NATION, mighty theme spectacle of American history presented by the Golden Gate International Exposition, which opens May 25, dons a more modern costume to help dress the stage set windows of the Fair's big show. Miss Bissell claims to be a direct descendant of the real Pocahontas.

CUB SCOUT PACK HOSTS TO PARENTS FRIDAY EVENING

The Placerville Cub Scout Pack, of which Loren Atwood is cubmaster, was host to the parents of its members Friday evening at a "stunt night" at the Junior Community Hall on Benham Street.

Although the cub pack meets regularly on Friday afternoons, the special evening occasion was arranged so that most of the parents of members could attend.

The program featured stunts by the various dens of the pack and first award for the evening went to Bobby Gillette, George Meistrel, Dick McCullough, Kenneth Warner and Dan Price who, under the supervision of their Den Mother, Mrs. S. E. Price, re-enacted the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Howard Beattie received his advancement certificate and now passes out of the Cub Scout Pack into one of the regular Boy Scout troops.

Carlot shipment of lettuce from the Salinas valley will begin in earnest about April 15.

Albert Griggs and Ray Gaunt of Camino and William H. Greene, of Diamond Springs were enrolled as members of Company 996 CCC Camp Mosquito Thursday.

Camp Snowline will lock horns with the Camp Mosquito softball ten in a return match at Camp Snowline Saturday afternoon, and Camp Mosquito had their wings clipped 8 to 3.

Knabe III, New Arrival At E. O. Hook Home

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ogden Hook on Monday were introducing griends to a "new member of the family," known by the name of Knabe III.

Knabe is a pedigreed Dachsund puppy to which Mr. Hook became attached Sunday when he stopped at a kennel near Fairoaks "just to have a look."

Whether it was the excitement of meeting so many friends, or a slight case of indigestion, was not known Monday, but Knabe III was slightly indisposed during the afternoon.

All-Woman Court in Action

Conferring on a case at Beaver Falls, Pa., are Constable Gertrude A. Tinsman (left) and Mrs. Floretta L. Smith, alderman. They comprise the only all-woman court in the United States—as far as we know. At right is a gun, which seems to show that the ladies aren't fooling. Constable Tinsman, mother of a grown daughter, has never had any trouble making arrests.

The FARMERS CORNER

the table.

How many farms in California could afford to give up 10 per cent of their gross income and still stay in business? Ask yourself that question, before you sign a blank check for Ham and Eggs petition circulators. For farmers can seldom pass on their increased overhead. Whether from taxation or other causes, the farmer pays it, for the prices of farm commodities are governed by supply and demand—and world conditions—and can not be arbitrarily "marked up" to meet the increased costs.

And a 10 per cent tax on gross income (that's a conservative estimate) would simply spell ruin and tax confiscation to California agriculture. No farmer needs to take the writer's statement for that fact; all he needs to do is to consult his own books and arrive at his own decision.

Sponsors of the new pension scheme undoubtedly will seek to obscure the issue with farmers by arguing that the new act would repeal existing taxes, including property taxes.

But at what a price!

Every time the farmer bought feed or fertilizer, supplies or equipment, food or closhing, EVERY TURNOVER OF EVERY PURCHASE would be taxed 3 per cent.

And every time the farmer sold a shipment of farm produce, that shipment would be TAXED 3 PER CENT ON EVERY TURNOVER, so long as it remained in the State of California.

Even granting that California consumers would pay part of the tax, when the goods were consumed here (and that is entirely problematical), what position would California farmers find themselves in when they shipped their products to the other States?

No other state would assess this confiscatory 3 per cent turnover tax. Yet California, the No. 1 Farm State in the country—would be expected to stay in business and compete.

HOW? Ask yourself that question, too, before you sign the Ham and Eggs petitions.

Apart from the tax aspect of the Ham and Eggs amendment, and its disastrous effect on agriculture, every taxpayer and every citizen, who values his livelihood, should consider the pension and scrip provisions of the measure.

The new act, instead of providing Thirty-Every-Thursday, would provide for the issuance of twenty of the scrip "dollars" every week to all persons over 50 years of age, who are unemployed and whose net incomes do not exceed $2400.

Then comes a new proviso: All unemployed under 50 years of age would be entitled to receive seven "dollar" warrants every week, as long as they remained unemployed. And every school student would likewise be entitled to $7 in warrants each week.

One wonders, reading this amendment, just who would be foolish enough (if the act would work) to remain at work? Who would fry the Ham and Eggs and wash the dishes? If everybody over 50 is entitled to Seven-Every-Thursday, because they haven't reached that age, why work at all? Why not just relax and let Mother Nature take care of us?

Absurd, yes! but California voters, have had a careless habit of signing almost any petition submitted to them. Stop, Look and Listen! Count the cost, before you sign!
